Nope, nope and nope. Tell that to all of the martyrs for God through the past 2000 years. Nowhere in the bible does it say a great tribulation is for Israel to be redeemed. Christ died for Israel to be redeemed, and they are saved only if they repent and believe, through all the ages. Zionism is a lie from Satan, not Biblical. Daniel 9 is clear that the age of the Jews was completed, all 70 weeks fulfilled just like God said it would play out.

The Great Tribulation is like every other event before, except now like days of Noah, once again on a whole earth scale. The bride is saved in an ark WHILE the wrath of God is poured out. They don't happen in isolation. Where does the believer fit in? Just like God tells us, we are the two witnesses the lampstand (non Messianics) and the olive tree (Messianics), we are binding and loosing during the tribulation and many of us will be overcome/killed by the BEAST system (Revelation 13:7). The bride is the bride and has always been subject to persecution. Jesus said follow me, take up your cross, not "get out of tribulation free at the end because I deem you better than the rest of human history bride". Please. Matthew 24: 29-31, 2 Thessalonians 2, Daniel 12, all of Revelation. It's blatantly clear where the bride is (on earth) during tribulation, and what will be going on. Jesus gave prophecy for a reason, and of course those who serve Satan or haven't repented so can't see truth of scripture, twist the scripture to serve their wicked love of their own flesh, saving their own skin.

Sorry, you're simply wrong. You're missing the entire point of the prophets speaking of the redemption of Israel plus Paul "to the Jew first, then the Gentile." See Zechariah 13 with 1/3 of Israel saved. There is also no mention of the church in Revelation beginning chapter 6 - 19; there's a reason for that. You are very close to being caught up in the heretical doctrine of Replacement Theology that curses Israel. Be very careful!
